

Mark North

Property Consultant

Mark has a broad property background working both in the UK as well as more than ten years overseas, including five years with Fletcher Building; a construction, building supplies and development company and one of New Zealand's largest listed companies.

Mark started his property career with Colliers International in London in the Landlord and Tenant team. Soon after obtaining RICS membership, he started to specialise in development appraisals and land residual valuations. This branched into development strategy reports and disposals and acquisitions of development land. His more recent roles have been development management focused.
